QUANTUM - All-New ZIP System

We have developed the system to increase strength and stability, consistency in manufacture and reliability in the hands of our customers.

The ZIP System is a multi-part wall joint which provides a multitude of benefits within the product. The ZIP system is intrinsically strong, as it creates a complete metallic frame around the underside of the vehicle, securing both the wall and floor in place, and providing a robust seal, preventing water ingress.

The metallic frame is engineered with 6060-T6 Anodised Aluminium to a high tolerance, which further prevents corrosion, and increases consistency in our manufacturing process, giving long life and integrity to the Quantum, further protecting your investment.

6060-T6 Anodised Aluminium is a Marine Grade Alloy, using Magnesium and Silicon. This Aluminium is strong, heat treated, and highly corrosion-resistant, meaning it is one of the most reliable materials used in motorhomes.

The ZIP System is a fully bonded construction system, which creates a complete seal around the floor and walls, eradicating potential paths of water ingress. Buccaneer has also engineered in further protection, incorporating polyurethane within the frame of the side walls.

The ZIP System, when further combined with our HaloTEC one- piece, seamless wall construction, ensures that there are 2 levels of protection. The HaloTEC wall is a one-piece composite polypropylene. material construction, which is highly impact- and damp-resistant.
